The Printers' Strike.

On Monday the St. John's Typographical Union went out on strike and the Advocate consequently did not issue that day. The printers demanded that they should work 44 per week instead of 48 hours, their wages to remain the same. This was a proposition that the Advocate could not consider as frankly it is impossible to add to the burden of expense which all newspapers are operating to-day. The depression which is felt in all trades is also felt in the printing trade, and best proof that can be afforded of this is the voluntary suspension of the Evening Herald a few months ago and the apparent reluctance of anybody to take over the plant, which we understand is now in process of liquidation.

The printer seek to cease impression that this 44 week scheme was agreed to two years ago. This is absolutely false. It may have been agreed by employers abroad, but the proposition has not been put up here until recently. The cause that the Printers have to fall in line with the International Typographical Union with which they are amalgamated falls to the ground when it is remembered that while the 48 hour week came into effect in 1906 in the United States and perhaps other places, it was not put in operation here until a few years ago.

When the 48 hour week was given the union scale of wages of $23.00 per week was given, and even $30.00 $32.00 and even $35.00 per week in some cases. The proposition now is a minimum wage of $28.00 and a 44 hour week. The claim that this proposition would mean no loss of production does not hold water. The same claim was made when the 48 hour week took the place of the 54 hour week, but it did not work out in practice.

The Printers know full well that a 44 hour week for newspapers in this country means overtime for them and there is no possibility of getting away from it.

The claim that the Printers are working in conditions that lower their vitality and take 9 years off their life is not one that can be applied to this country where the operators have plenty of air, light and sunshine, and a hundred per cent better conditions than that enjoyed say by the clerks in Water St. We have asked one of the principal Insurance men of the city whether his Company considers workers in newspaper any greater risk than the ordinary.

He replied at once that the premium charged in the case of Printers is the ordinary rate charged everybody, which at once dispels the claim that the life of a Printer is shortened by his work as if such were the case the Insurance Companies would certainly discriminate against them.

We can speak for our own former employees and say that a more healthy looking crowd would be difficult to find in any walk of life.

It has never been difficult to get Printers to work overtime, and as we have said, the Printers know that a 44 hour week must mean overtime.

The conditions here cannot be classed with those of congested cities where operators work in ill lighted buildings, and where they have to work every minute of the time.

Here it is vastly different in every particular.

The Advocate has always granted the requests of the Printers in the matter of wages, but under the present circumstances when business has decreased and all industries are feeling the strain of present world conditions, the further demands of the Printers are more than we can see our way clear to accept. It will be generally realized that the matter of a "living wage" is not involved in this dispute.

We ask our readers, advertisers, and correspondents to appreciate the difficulties of publishing while the Advocate is adjusting itself to new conditions.

Death of Mrs. Grenfell Sr.

Last week in England there passed away Mrs. Jane Georgianna Grenfell in her 88th year. As the mother of Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell she was deeply interested in Newfoundland, and her many friends here will revere her memory. The Grenfell Hall in the Seamen's Institute is dedicated to her memory. In his autobiography Doctor Grenfell gladly acknowledges that his mother was the inspiration of his life of service.

Mrs. Grenfell was born in India, her father being a Colonel of many campaigns, and her brother an engineer in charge during the siege of Lucknow till relieved by Sir Henry Havelock.

Dr. Grenfell was due to sail for England from New York this week to visit his mother who had been in failing health for several months.

Bell Island Elks.

The annual meeting of No. 3 Lodge B.P.O.E. Elks was recently held at Bell Island when the local Lodge received its Charter under the Grand Lodge of Newfoundland. The following officers were elected for the coming year, viz:—

Exalted Ruler—J. P. Burke, (chairman W.C. Council).
Lecturing Knight—J.M. Greene.
Chaplain—C.B. Maine.
Loyal Knight—Edward Spencer.
Leading Knight—J. Cramm.
Secretary—F. F. Jardine.
Treasurer—R. Proudfoot.
P. E. R.—C.B. Archibald.
Watchman—W. Lindsay.
Guide—S. Scotlin.
Aide—N. Cohen.
P. M.—W. Filler.
Esquire—E. Ryan.
Tyler—R. Ryan.
Trustees—J. H. Hughes, J. H. Bennett, R. T. Kent.

The meeting was very enthusiastic and under the new Executive No. 3 Lodge will take on a new lease of life. Arrangements are being made to hold the annual ball sometime in May, when a large number of brethren are expected from St. John's to be with their lady friends.

From the present outlook it seems No. 3 Lodge of Elks will eclipse anything of its kind in Newfoundland.

At Grand Falls.

Last week the staff and operatives at Grand Falls were notified that a reduction of wages must take place, and they were asked to give the proposal a full and fair consideration. This they did with the result that the proposed cut was accepted, and work is proceeding as usual. The reduction, so far as we can learn, is from one fifth to one third of former rates. The fact that Scandinavian factories can land paper in the world's markets at a lower figure than it takes to produce it locally would suggest that the only alternative for many plants would be closing down, and in the present serious state of the labour market such an alternative would have proved a serious calamity. Grand Falls is to be congratulated on the wisdom displayed by employees and employers alike.

Personal.

Announcement is made of a partnership between Mr. William H. Limer and Mr. Fred T. Atwill, recently formed at Hartford, Connecticut, who have purchased the sheet metal business of C. G. Boatwick, with whom Mr. Limer has been associated for 19 years, and Mr. Atwill 6 years. The junior member of the Limer-Atwill Company is a Newfoundland, son of Mrs. Atwill of Leslie Street, and brother of Mr. W. G. Atwill of the G.P.O. He left Newfoundland about eighteen years ago. For five years previous to leaving Mr. Atwill was in the employ of Ayre & Sons, Ltd. He is a nephew of Jesse Whiteway, Esq., of this city. To the new firm the many friends of the junior partner in this country wish continuous and abounding success.

S.S. Sagana sailed yesterday for North Sydney, and will probably relieve the Kyle for a few trips before going down the Straits.

Meigle's Passengers.

S. S. Meigle arrived at Placentia 5 p.m. yesterday with the following passengers:—J. Carmichael, W.J. Sinnott, G. Squires, T. Lawrence, T.J. Badcock, M. Parsons, S. Avery, M. James, H.V. Rose and wife, W. Wight, Mrs. H. Squires, J. A. Moody, Rev. Fr. McLoughlin, Rev. Fr. Kearney.

The R.I.S. billiard dinner takes place to-night in their club, when an enjoyable time is anticipated.

Labour Situation.

Quiet prevailed along the waterfront yesterday everything being at a standstill. At two premises several of the permanent office staff were employed handling fish, in one case the principal and his son, were obliged to carry the barrow. The S. S. Portia was still detained owing to the men refusing to start loading the ship until the Executive of the Union had been approached. Three small cargoes of coal arrived in port yesterday and at a meeting called last night, the matter of handling the Coastal boats, and the work of any other firm which will fall in line with the Union's demands was discussed. President Flavin was in the chair and the meeting was largely attended. Communications from the Minister of Shipping and from three other firms were received offering the men the old scale if they would handle their work, and after discussing the matter, it was decided that the men would resume work with these firms this morning. Nothing further has developed regarding the situation other than the foregoing.

She must deal directly with the Allies, it was believed here to-day, as Charles E. The sum of 6,000,000,000 pounds was fixed yesterday as the principal of the German reparation debt. Pending a reply from Berlin, France and Great Britain will be preparing coercive measures. Upwards of 150,000 members of the class of 1919 have been called to the French colors. The Times asserts that the Allies are believed to be unanimous on all main points.

The Government Railway Commission are getting the bay boats ready for service and during the last two months, they have been docked and overhauled. It was hoped to have a cargo of coal arrive this week to supply them with bunker, but the proposed sailing from North Sydney has been cancelled for the present.

Evangelistic Service At Gower St. Church.

"Some 20th Century Giants" was the subject of the Rev. I. W. Williamson's address last night. The great need of the world to-day is for men of valour and faith. Men who, like, Milton, Nelson, Beethoven, can do the impossible things in spite of great obstacles. The great Giants of selfishness, Pleasure, Indifference, and unbelief have made the Christian Church members appear as grasshoppers. We need those who can by God's Grace slay these Giants. Only so can God's Cause prosper. An impressive meeting was held, it was very largely attended, and a hopeful sign for the continuing services of the week. A very hearty invitation is given to all men and women to attend and share in the blessings of these services.

Western Fishery.

The Board of Trade received the following report from Sub-Collector Cunningham yesterday, giving the fishery report from Connoire to Red Island for the week ending April 23.

Total landed to date 900 qts., total for week 120, no traps in the water, 60 boats fishing. A good sign of cod in deep water, but herring scarce. The weather for the week was changeable, winds moderate, ice not far from the land. The first cod since January caught this week one boat getting 8 qts., for one day, but many getting little or none. The catch to date is the worst for 40 years, we have no bankers or schrs. of any kind fishing, and merchants will hardly buy green fish. This is making it hard for fishermen who are not supplied.

If you want an introduction to the big purchasing public just try an ad. in the fishermen's papers—The Evening and Weekly Advocate.

At the interval supper was served under the supervision of Mesdames W.B. Fraser and Tasker Cook, after which the affair was brought to a close with a dance the music being furnished by the full band of the C.L.B. who were in their usual good form and gave a special programme of new dance music. ## SOME ADVICE

Parliament is conducted on lines that allow a man to talk all day and all night if he has anything to say. If Sir Michael then sees things so very wrong, the very utmost that can be expected of him as a thorough patriot is that he put his forebodings into words and let the public know so that they may act. Give it to us in plain English so that we too may see the danger and be prepared. If he cannot do it in few words let him use many; if he is not successful at first let him try again, but the revelations if they are to get our attention must be something more terrible than that one member of the government is one kind of ugly thing and another different kind. People only talk that way to frighten children. Does Cashin really think the House of Assembly is his and that the current session intended solely to give him an opportunity to show that all the things that nature and the supreme court has done adverse to his interests or sentiments the past two or ten years are wrong.

A party leader whose debate is vulgar abuse, who sides openly with a disqualified intriguer with one breath and calls a partisan mob into the representative assembly with the next introduces indeed a unique element into our national councils. Sir Michael persuades now people every day that it would be a grievous calamity for this country were he even by any misfortune to become premier.

I saw him in Harbor Main when he went like the fox without a tail to persuade all the foxes there to cut off their tails also. And Billy Walsh was there too and confirmed my former opinion of him.

Whom does Sir Michael represent? There is only one way to rule this country and thank God that is by the voice of the people. Sir Michael thought he had a great plan and he certainly had a chance and he emphatically did his best in his very own way to advertise it but the people coolly and deliberately turned him and his plan down.

The people say our rulers must be selected by a majority vote of all the people, and in its exercise of that decision they have said, "Sir Michael" the general make-up of your plan and your party is not satisfying to us; we can only give you eleven men and an opportunity to further prove yourself by the manner in which you maintain the dignity and prestige of His Majesty's Opposition for the next four years; while to Hon. R. A. Squires and twenty-three associates we confide the destinies of our Island Home for the same period.

Of course there are people in the world who not uncommonly find fault with the supreme edict. Sir Michael goes for to prove by his actions that he is one of these. Sir Michael by his actions says: I know the people have spoken, but the people don't know, and I'm going to tell them. He forgets that he had his chance to tell them and they weren't convinced. He got to be leader of the existing government and from this strategic point of vantage he told the people in stentorian tones but they said "no, a thousand times no." Why then does not Sir Michael let us go to the dogs and be blessed if we are so very obstinate in ignoring his good counsel.

What do national people think of a man who persistently refuses to abide by the decisions of constituted authority? What does a society or guild think of a member who fails to respect the majority vote and who acts and speaks in a clownish manner, despising order, and obstructing business while he airs his own personal grievances.

I have attended session after session of the House and listened to Cashin hour after hour hold forth on the things that were said to him and the things that were done to him and when the thought of the multitude of grievous wrongs heaped upon overcame him, abusing everybody in sight.

Plainly Cashin's fight is to satisfy his own personal conceit, and has no semblance of an attempt to benefit his own district or any other. Apparently he judges the government personally by himself and thinks by these tactics to induce the government to discredit itself in opposition districts. Has he not a solitary sincere friend who will put him wise at least for decency sake, because he can never by any conceivable process become more than a district boss.

Yours Very Truly,

MAY DAY IN ITALY.

Rome, May 1.—May Day, coming a fortnight before the general elections, acquires greater importance than in past years. Both Fascist, or extreme Nationalists, and Socialists appeared determined not to provoke disorders. This gave rise to the hope that the day would pass without serious trouble.

OBSERVATIONS

Hats off to R. Callahan for old-fashioned truth. He doesn't mine it, and I'll say he's some pest-killer too. Probably the best proof of the worth and sincerity of the present government is the adoption of the Export Regulations. Twist them how you like and you can find no reason for them except a bona fide desire to grade up our staple product and secure the future of the industry.

Isn't it surprising how apt people are to forget the four years war that so recently shattered the economic fabric of the world. Many decry the hard times and seek as with a lantern in broad daylight for the cause. The war is no longer popular, and has been blamed for so many things that we feel foolish when anyone suggests that it caused anything. Before the war every country raised enough home products to maintain themselves and balance exchange. Practically everybody piled a productive occupation of some sort. After the war came, about twenty million first rate men left their jobs and started deliberately to destroy as much as they possibly could and keep it up until a majority of them became so utterly ruined that they could no longer carry on. Probably a hundred million others gave their time to supply them with all the necessities of subsistence and paraphernalia of war. Billions and billions of dollars worth were blown up burned and sunk in the sea. Surely, no sane man or woman expected we could get away with it and not suffer the consequences.

It is suicidal for nations to war, even the winner, though he gains the victory, does so at the expense of his resources. Besides when he crushes a fellow nation he probably ruins one of his best customers. He can no longer produce the things that I want, therefore I am thrown over on some other source or subterfuge at extraordinary cost. Neither can he buy the things that I produce rendering them worthless, worse than worthless because if I reserve them for the future they must remain a stumbling block and an obstruction to my future output. That's what has happened to us, or a fundamental cause of it.

Our best customers are ruined for the time being. We produced the goods but they were unable to buy. Two years catch of Norwegian fish was offering and they had to take this inferior article unless they could get ours at an equally low price, a price still lower than that we have received. No man or party could alter that. The bulk of North American (including Newfoundland) products are as good as tied up for want of a market; dry goods, boots and shoes, everything. Nobody is buying except the bare necessities of life. Manufacturers and producers of all classes therefore suffer, through delayed sales, while the industry that handles a perishable article must crash because its product will neither sell nor keep.

In Newfoundland we have such a crash and no power on earth could avert it. The Export Regulations staved off the utter ruin that would have been our lot and would have done much better but for the cut-throat gang who broke our ranks by base misrepresentation, and kept us fighting our best interests; in a criminal attempt to discredit those whom the people had preferred to hold the reins of government, even going to the contemptibly treasonable extreme of informing foreigners of our weakness just as we were on the point of winning out. It was but natural that the sins of strife breeders should bring some degree of a curse on us where unity and harmony would certainly have been our salvation.

Many deny these facts because they feel ugly and they want to be obstinate, and they know it; many others cannot get the facts and must blame someone.

Yours Very Truly,
—P. J. T.

PORT UNION F. P. U. COUNCIL'S GREAT GAIN

RED LETTER DAYS FOR UNION MEN

(To the Editor)

Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your much read paper the Evening Advocate, to make a few remarks about the Union Council here. We are having splendid meetings, everyone seems to be full of Union vim. Since our annual meeting we have enrolled quite a lot of new members, as high as fifteen in one night.

As our Annual Parade was not noted in your paper, I would like to make a remark on it now.

We paraded on Feb. 22nd, a red letter day on the calendar, and it was truly a red letter day to Port Union Council. In the first place the day was all that heart could wish. We marched to that busy little settlement, Melrose, one mile and a half from Port Union, accompanied by the brass band.

On returning to the Union Hall we had the privilege of filling emptiness with as many bowls of delicious soup as we felt like having, which was prepared by our kind ladies. We finished up the day with a funny story and a comic song or two, and went home feeling we had done justice to ourselves, to our Union and our town. Whoever said the spirit of Unionism was gone out of the people here was a false pair of jaws.

But we didn't die there sir. On April 16th, on the arrival of President Coaker, one of the best days in the history of the Union was witnessed. Everyone seemed to be in the spirit on that day. We paraded from Port Union to Catalina Station, taking with us a very neatly decorated carriage and we too back with us the Hon. W. F. Coaker, the one who has done great things for us. After a speech of one hour's duration from the hon. gentleman, the band played the National Anthem, and we went to our different homes prouder than ever we became Union men, saying to ourselves and out aloud: "What we have we'll hold."

Thanking you for space and hoping that I haven't trespassed on your valuable paper.

I remain,

Yours truly,

F. WILTSHIRE.

Chairman Port Union Council.

Port Union,

April 20th, 1921.

THE BRITISH CROP ACREAGE

Complete official returns of the British Ministry of Agriculture show that the acreage under important crops in the United Kingdom in 1920 still exceeded the corresponding pre-war acreage. Cultivation of wheat, barley, oats and potatoes extended over approximately 10 million acres in 1920, or about one million acres more than in 1913.

The detailed figures have just been received by the Bankers Trust Company, of New York, from its English Information Service, as follows:

	BRITISH CROP ACREAGE
	1913	1920
Wheat	1,790,376	1,987,711
Barley	1,930,052	2,049,306
Oats	3,961,429	4,635,243
Potatoes	1,173,418	1,291,408

While exceeding the pre-war position the wheat acreage was about 400,000 acres less than in 1919, and there was also a decrease compared to 1919 of almost 500,000 acres in the area sown to oats.

An increase in the number of holdings of cultivated land was apparent compared to 1919. These holdings in England and Wales numbered 417,991 in 1920, exceeding the individual holdings in the preceding year by 1323. The number of owners occupying their agricultural lands increased from 48,665 in 1919 to 57,234 in 1920.

	1913	1920
Horses	1,865,745	1,876,150
Cattle	11,896,479	11,732,354
Sheep	27,562,138	23,332,483
Pigs	3,294,215	3,162,561

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annoying symptoms
such as nervousness irritability, melancholia, heat
flashes which produce headache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years
of perfect health
may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Regina, Sask.—"I was going through Change of Life and suffered for two years with headache, nervousness, sleepless nights and general weakness. Some days I felt tired and unfit to do my work.
I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and found good results, and I also find it a very helpful
Spring tonic and useful for constipation from which I suffer much. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to several friends, and am willing you should publish this."—Mrs. MARTHA W. LIND-SAY, 810 Robinson St., Regina, Sask.

Lascelles, P.Q.—"During the Change of Life I felt so weak and run down I could hardly do my work. The perspiration would pour over my face so that I couldn't see what I was doing.
We live on a farm, so there is lots to do,
but many who felt as I did would have been in bed. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did me a world of good. I tried other remedies but I put Vegetable Compound ahead of them all, and I tell every one I know how much good it has done me."—Mrs.
DUNCAN BROWN, Lascelles, Prov. Quebec.

CHAMPNEYS EAST BACKS MR. COAKER

(To the Editor)
Dear Sir,—While looking over the Advocate I see lots of trash talked by the so called Tory party. I know it is a bitter pill to them that Squires
and Coaker's party got the...

Mr. Editor first of all I must have a word to say about our Council here.
We have got a young crowd in charge of the good and noble ship F.P.U.
and you bet there is no Toryism growing under their feet in putting her through. Our Council is growing stronger and wiser every meeting.
While reading the Advocate I saw Mr.
Callahan's letter. I must congratulate him on the job he has suggested for Walsh to do. I guess he may call down here and look for a few shares for his work. Ah Walsh, not so easy from the people as Hon. Mr. Coaker got them, but don't let this stop you from coming and bring that noble
Fox with you and the north will show him or tell him all about the "greatest happiness on earth which is to be born an F.P.U. man and never know the truth." Does Fox think that all the north is too green to burn. If he does, he may get mistaken like that able man Morine did in 1919. As for the 'News' and 'Telegram' they are not worth talking about. To my mind they are like the stopper in the Minard's liniment bottle, always popping out and getting the good taken out of them. Some day they will dry up and want to be fit for use.

Mr. Editor I must have a word to say about the Fish Regulations; to my mind, like others, they were a great benefit to the fishermen and that is what has caused so much trouble;
the fishermen were getting too much for their own pockets and Mr. Coaker was going to get all the praise as they agreed together to try and down them.

We had a concert here on April 5th in the C.E.T.S. Hall and raised the sum of $12.75 and are sending the balance after the hall hire is paid to the Beaumont Hamel Fund. To my mind it is every Newfoundlander's place to do what they can for a good cause like that. Quite a small crowd took part in setting up the concert,
about ten of them, but they put her through nobly.

Seeing that Mr. Coaker is back and has got the fat put up, why wouldn't the north stick to him, as he is the only man who ever came out to try and help the fishermen. Hoping I have not taken up too much space,
and wishing Coaker and the Union
every success and praying that the time is not far distant when all the fishermen will be hastening to join the Union to down Toryism.

Yours truly,
STICK TO IT.

Champneys East.

"SINK OR SWIM" WITH COAKER

(Editor Evening Advocate)
Dear Sir,—By your kind permission I would ask a short space in the columns of the Evening Advocate.

The Fishermen of the North are delighted to see the agony of the poor defeated Tories and can smile
at their fury.

Before going into farther details of what I have to say I would advise these die hards to get a trial box of ointment labelled "Sink or swim with Coaker." This they will rub on their angry spot, and if relief is not so sudden as they wish, they can get a bottle of tonic called "F. P. U." This must be taken in small quantities as directed and the result will be astonishing. They will no longer be fighting for political grab, but will be helping the Hon. W. F. Coaker to put country first. When making the following remarks I have before me a Free Press dated April 12th.

The poor Tory bubble is holding up his hands in holy horror because Coaker or the present Government advanced money to keep up the price
off the past fall, and gave fishermen their salt somewhat cheaper than it would have been under Tory rule.

This is terrible, terrible, oh TER-RIBLE, Mr. Tory! But what about the half million dollars that was wasted, given to heeled and Tory supporters in the fall of 1919 before the general election? You are silent about that money, Mr. Free Press.
Ah, you can't fool the fishermen;
that day is past. If they are cullage (Cashin) you need them, cannot get your grab, Mr. Tory, without their vote, which you will never get.

How easy, Skipper Tory, after a bad voyage you would get us back again to the days of sour molasses and maggoty flour if you had the Government. You will never rule this country. You can howl, bite and rage as you wish, the fishermen say but little and smile at your calamity.
Whoever tried to uplift the fishermen before Coaker came from the back woods, it was not you, Mr. Tory.
Coaker is the fishermen's friend, and a friend to Newfoundland. You do not believe it, Mr. Tory. Yes you do, only you are filled with political spite and hatred toward the man who has driven you from power, never to return again.

Hon. W. F. Coaker is to the fisherman and labourer what Moses was to the Israelites, their leader and captain. We are at his back to strengthen his work. Go ahead, Mr. Coaker, we are with you, forty thousand strong.

The North is watching your enemies with silent contempt. Your enemies destroyed the fish regulations through political spite. They cannot hurt you politically; your followers fear no political foe, not even the great A. B. M. More to follow.

Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your much esteemed paper, the Advocate, to record the death of Amelia Gillingham, beloved wife of Robert Gillingham, who passed peacefully
away to the great beyond on January 18th, at the ripe age of 51. She was never heard to murmur but bore her sickness patiently. She was 1 to rest on the 20th of January at the C. of E. Cemetery to await the sur-rection morning. The funeral service was conducted by our teacher, Mr.
W. Dicker. She leaves to mourn a husband, mother, one sister, one brother, three daughters, six grandchildren and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their sad loss.

'Tis hard to part with those we love,
For God has ordered it so,
Farewell dear wife and mother,
We shall meet again we know.

Thou art gone but not forgotten,
Never shall thy memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will always linger,
Round the grave where thou art laid.
